

Hikvision named 2016 Supplier of the Year by The Edge Group

HOUSTON, TX - OCTOBER 19, 2016— Hikvision was announced as the 2016 Edge Group Supplier of the Year at the 25th Anniversary Fall Conference held October 19-21, 2016 at the Omni Hotel in Houston, Texas.

The prestigious “Supplier of the Year” award is voted upon annually by the group’s shareholders through an audit where suppliers are ranked based on performance criteria in support, engagement, customer service, product quality and promotions.

“We are fortunate to work with great suppliers who are committed to their partnerships with the Edge Group” said Ron Meyers, President & CEO, Edge Group. “Our dedicated suppliers continually help our members achieve success with their excellent products, outstanding support and service.”

Hikvision was also recognized with the “Top Growth Award” for achieving the highest revenue and volume growth over the prior year.

Hikvision is the world’s leading supplier of video surveillance solutions. From its inception in 2001, Hikvision has played an active role in the ever-evolving video surveillance market, devoting eight percent of its annual revenue into research and development for continued product innovation. Featuring the industry’s strongest R&D workforce, Hikvision designs, develops, and manufactures innovative standard- and high-definition cameras, including a variety of Smart IP recorders and cameras with infrared, wide dynamic range, facial detection, object counting, and intrusion detection capabilities.
